DIPSEA, WOODMINISTER, HANDICAPS...

Norm Bright, then 61, holder of the Dipsea course record since 1937 and down from Seattle to present the trophy to the winner in 1969, observed that with the 15 min. handicap given to women, youngsters and men over 60, he could, with an all out training effort, have a chance at winning the next Dipsea. Nineteen hundred training miles, numerous bus trips down from Seattle to get in 26 practice runs on the Dipsea, and many recurring leg problems later, Norm on the eve of the 1970 Dipsea was confident.

He then received a call from the Race committee informing him that the handicaps had been changed so that the 15 minutes would extend down to the 50 year olds. Sadly, Norm Bright picked up the phone again and offered congratulations to the outstanding over 50 runner who was now almost assured of the win.

This account is accurate except for the last paragraph, which was tossed in merely to point out a similar situation at this year's Woodminister Run. After running his first Woodminister last year at age 39, Gil Tarin kept on running the course several times a week for the next year, getting his times down to where the extra 4 minutes he would receive as a 40 year old would put him within reach of winning it all. Gil then received a call on the eve of the '72 Woodminister informing him that the handicaps had been changed, effectively putting him out of contention for the top spot.

Gil, not wanting to run at all as a protest to fickle last minute handicapping, reconsidered and guided Harry Cordellos through the rugged course to a fourth place finish, an all-time best for Harry.

There are several sensible and workable handicap ideas that have been discussed among runners. Why not give them a try some time? --HSR.

DSE STOW LAKE RELAY - June 18, 1972

2 mile laps, 81 runners

A few words about this run are in order--like the Paulson's who discovered the course never show up to run it -- or our illustrious President who'd rather swim than run it -- or the fact that so few women show up it's difficult to figure out a fair way to arrange the teams (of 2) -- so that each time the race is run it experiences certain changes.

This time, a 4 min. handicap was given to all the male-female teams. Then the remaining male runners (in the majority) were paired by selecting names from a hat, or a tin can, or something.

Despite the beginning confusion, it's a pretty run and a good short workout-- up to the top of Strawberry Hill, then down and around the Lake.

FIRST ANNUAL DSE BIATHLON

Robyn Paulson reporting...

The First Annual DSE Biathlon was held Saturday, Sept. 16th. It was a lot of fun for its 15 participants and we hope to have it again next year with even more of you runner-swimmers entering! The day was cool and overcast, but the cold water felt good after the 2½ mile run. Thanks to Pat Cunneen for braving the water twice, once to float the marker. Special mention to 12 year old John Paulson, the only under 12 to enter. Thanks also to Larry Lewis for presenting the awards to the winners.
